Grape Rot—Berry Moth.

My grapes have begun to rot and fall. What is the cause and what must I do for them? They look all right and are very large.

W. R. L., Horse Cave, Ky.

Answer: The description is scarcely accurate enough to enable us to decide whether it is grape rot or the berry-moth or both, which are attacking your grapes. The treatment for both can be combined. Grape rot is entirely avoidable by beginning spraying before blossoming, and continuing as the season advances. But spraying even now will cause the rot to stop. Grape rot is caused by the growth of the grape rot fungus in the berry. Under proper conditions of heat and moisture grape rot spreads very rapidly, often ruining the entire crop. The first spraying will check it and if you spray again ten days later, the disease will be under control and stop entirely. The spraying material is called Bordeaux mixture and is prepared as follows: Materials for preparing 50 gallons of the mixture contain the following: Copper sulphate or bluestone, 4 pounds; Quickslime in lumps (not air slaked), 4 pounds; water to make 50 gallons. (If air-slaked lime is used, use one-fourth more.)

HOW TO MAKE BORDEAUX MIXTURE.

Dissolve the bluestone in about two gallons of hot water, using a wooden or earthen bucket. Pour solution into the barrel used for making the mixture and fill about one-half full of water. In another barrel or box stake the lime by addition of a small quantity of water, and when slaked cover with water and stir well. Strain the milk of lime thus made through a strainer or coarse gunny sack, and pour into the bluestone solution. If all the lime is not slaked, add more water until all the lime is used up except stones or sand.

Next add sufficient water to make the 50 gallons; stir thoroughly and the mixture is ready for use. As the material used is heavy, the contents of the barrel should be well stirred before using, to insure uniform strength of mixture. It is best to make the mixture fresh before using as it will not be so effective if kept for any length of time.

In addition to this treatment by spraying, it is well to cut or remove all weeds and plants growing under or near the grape trellises. This for the purpose of giving the freest circulation of air and a dry condition of the surroundings because it is heat and dampness which favor the growth of rot germs. If your vines are very dense and leafy, you can break off the ends at the third joints beyond the last cluster of grapes.

Apply the spray very thoroughly, allowing it to touch every part of the vine and leaves and berries. The job if well done, when dry should look almost as if the vines had been whitewashed. In regard to spraying, it largely depends upon the size of vineyard. If grapes are grown for commercial use you will find it necessary to use a barrel sprayer. For a smaller number of grape vines a small sized or knapsack sprayer may be used. If you have only three or four vines the Bordeaux mixture may be sprinkled on with a short handled broom.

WORLD'S POLITICAL HORIZON.

By PAUL LAMBERT.

London, June 25.—Never has the political horizon of the world been as clouded as it is now since the days when the great Napoleon played all with the kingdoms of Europe. Everywhere is disorder and unrest.

Russia is practically in a state of revolution which only the strict censorship prevents from becoming generally known. Street fights which are regular battles are being fought in the barricaded streets of Loda.

The danger of war between Norway and Sweden is by no means over.

War between Germany and France is hanging over our heads like the sword of Damocles.

Austria and Hungary are in a state of the greatest turmoil, and that actual civil war has not broken out is due only to the love and respect of everybody for the old Emperor Francis Joseph. What will happen when he dies is impossible to foretell, but that his successor will not be the ruler of both countries is a foregone conclusion.

In Italy the people are being driven to despair by the increasing taxes, and the strength of the country is being sapped by the continuous emigration.

In the Balkans there is the usual confusion, the people of the various Christian states killing each other and the Turks massacring them all.

Behind the walls of his Konak in Belgrade, King Peter lives in steady fear of his life, a fear which has almost driven him insane.

In Germany the Socialist criticism of the Kaiser is sharper than ever, and that in spite of the great risk incurred in writing anything which displeases the Emperor. What the Socialists especially object to is the Kaiser's growing extravagance. He owns 83 landed estates, all of them models in their line, and many of them very profitable, although the men working on the imperial estates are paid higher wages than anywhere else.

The Kaiser is allowed an annual income of $4,000,000, but is always in financial straits, and the rumors in the English press that he had borrowed large amounts from Berlin bankers were undoubtedly true.

In Spain, King Alfonso is doing his best to keep his poverty stricken people from rebelling.

In all Europe England is the only quiet spot, and in the hands of King Edward lies largely the question of peace or war.

Patent Medicines.

A man that compounds or improves something is entitled to the largest share of the profits from the sale of the article, so he patents or copyrights. Patented goods are good goods, poor goods are never patented. We have 25 yrs. to prove we have the best medicine compounded for the cure of dyspepsia, sick-headache, biliousness, indigestion and all stomach disorders. We protect the public by keeping the formula a secret, as long as we make it we know it is made right. This medicine is Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills, 25c per box at druggists. One for a dose. Made by Dr. Rosanko Co., Philadelphia, Pa. Sold by W. S. Lloyd, druggist.

Prewitt's Report.

The annual report of State Commissioner of Insurance Henry R. Prewitt recommends the enactment of legislation barring from business in Kentucky any life insurance company which pays any of its executive officers a salary in excess of $50,000 a year.

A Common Duty.

Every man, woman and child in the United States is interested in the question of improved highways. The failure of a hundred years of local systems has shown that the country can never have a system of good roads except by the aid and co-operation of the general government. Bills were introduced in the last two Congresses providing for this thing—the original bill in the House of Representatives by Hon. W. P. Brownlow, of Tennessee, followed by a similar bill in the Senate by Hon. A. C. Latimer, of South Carolina; the first a Republican and the latter a Democrat. The Brownlow-Latimer bills will be introduced again this coming winter, and the strongest effort will be made to enact them into law. The friends of good roads have a duty to perform just here and now, and we would address this not alone to the farmer but to the merchant, manufacturer, lawyer, doctor, mechanic, and all other citizens, not omitting the minister. Use your influence with your Senator and Representative. This is the only way to get this national legislation. Write them a personal letter. Where you can, talk to them. Let them understand that you know what you want. You must convince them by overwhelming demand, just as the dairy interests convinced them in behalf of the pure-butter law; just as every interest that secures desired legislation convinces them. Every argument is in favor of national aid to good roads. The question of constitutionality has been settled. The question of necessity has never been disputed. The existence of reciprocal obligation between the government and the people has never been an open one. The government belongs to the people. The money that gets into the treasury belongs to the people. The time has come for the people to make concerted demand for the return to them of some part of that which is their own. Good Roads would do more for the country than any other one thing that can be named. It is a fact of history that no country ever built good roads without the aid of the general government. No country ever will, because the local property simply cannot afford it, and never in all the history of the world has it been able to except in the centers of wealth. If the people want good roads, they must wake up and get to work. Don't wait for somebody else to start. Get your demand in on your own Representative and Senators. If all who favor the Brownlow-Latimer good-roads bills will do this, favorable action may be expected. Without this concert of action Congress will do nothing. Congressman Brownlow and Senator Latimer can't do the work alone. It is the common duty of the people to flood Representatives and Senators with letters, demanding this good-roads legislation.

The Bourbon county grand jury which recently adjourned severely criticised the official integrity of the Bourbon Circuit Court.

The Independent Spirit.

Many a young man has declared at the outset of his career: "I shall be dependent on no one, but shall pay as I go and be absolutely free of all obligations." The spirit which prompts such a statement of principle is good. The men who succeed are those with the independent mind. But it is impossible, says Youth's Companion, for anyone to say that he is under no obligation for the things which he has received and enjoyed. Years after a rebellious youth has told his father that he worked hard at home and earned all that he received, it will dawn on him that no money can pay for a mother's care or a father's love, and if he have not a wife and child of his own, he will look with envy on these common blessings, not to be bought with money, that even the humblest enjoy. He may think that he is independent as he "pays his way" through college, meeting every bill as it is presented and accepting no favors; but if he looks at the treasurer's report, and analyzes its figures, he will soon discover that he has been the recipient of the bounty of kindly men whom he never knew and who never heard of him—men whose love for their fellows led them to give their money to the college for the benefit of all who might apply. A typical case is that of one of the smaller colleges, which pays $28,000 a year in salaries alone to the professors, and receives in tuition from the students only $12,000. In several of the large colleges the disparity between the cost of instruction and what is received in tuition is so great that they are seriously considering raising the rate of tuition so that the annual deficit may not be quite so large. It is not the college student alone who is dependent on the benefactions of others besides his parents. Civilization itself is the product of all the kindly efforts of those who have gone before—efforts made with the more or less conscious purpose of benefiting the children of the future. When the fact of dependence dawns on the mind the sentiment of gratitude is aroused, and finds expression in helpfulness toward others.

Kentuckians Say Government of Indian Territory Abuses Them.

Kentuckians returning from the Indian Territory en route to their homes in various sections of the State to visit families and friends were in Louisville Wednesday and some of them are pretty severe in their criticisms of the manner and method in which affairs are being conducted there by the United States Government and officers sent there by the United States to protect the interests of all the people.

At the Willard Hotel Tuesday were a number of ex-Kentuckians who went to the Territory a year or more ago to locate. They propose to return because all of their interests are there but some are indignant at the treatment accorded them by the tribal government especially.

The spokesman of the crowd here Tuesday was Judge J. D. Mitchell, of Pauls Valley, I. T., formerly of Winchester, Ky., where he practiced law for many years.

"Everybody in our section of the country thinks there was never any sincerity on the part of the Republicans regarding the passage of the Hamilton Bill," said he. "The people are up in arms about the manner in which affairs are being conducted there and on July 13 a convention will be held at Oklahoma City, which will be attended by delegates from every section of both Territories regardless of politics, to protest to the next Congress against the Statehood bill being tacked on to any omnibus bill with Arizona and New Mexico. The convention will insist that we be given Statehood on our own merits. We are a unit on a single statehood for the Territories now.

"We have no system of taxation, no taxation for roads or anything else. We are simply at the mercy of the Territorial Government. The land frauds are giving the Administration a black eye.

"The tribal government taxes the merchant 1 per cent. on his stock of goods and he is compelled to pay it. Some have resisted and only a short time ago a riot between the Indian police and the merchants was narrowly averted at Muskogee on account of this tax. What becomes of this money no one seems to know. One thing is certain it is not placed on the roads or used for the benefit of the Territory.

"Railroad rates are exorbitant. The Santa Fe has a perpetual injunction against the Chickasaw nation to prevent it from collecting one cent of taxes on their property. When I left Kentucky I shipped my law books to Pauls Valley. The freight from here to Memphis was $30 and from Memphis to the destination the freight was $170.02 and Memphis is half way."

Other members of the party spoke in the same strain, and one said that the Santa Fe had charged $700 to haul three carloads of freight forty-five miles.—Courier Journal.

Wants the $100,000.

Attorney Walker Hines, of Louisville, representing the old Sun Life Insurance Company of Kentucky, has made application to State Insurance Commissioner Prewitt to take down the deposit with the State of $100,000 in Government bonds which that company was required to have on deposit with the Treasurer while engaged in doing business in the State. Under the law three months' notice must be given of the request to withdraw these securities.

THE MARRIAGE GAME.

The pretty girl
And witty girl
Have not the slightest show,
But—
The nearest girl,
The sweetest girl,
The girls who have the dough,
The cunning girl,
The stinging girl,
May both be in the game;
But—
The richest girl,
The quickest girl,
To drop her maiden name,
The feasting girl,
The dancing girl,
No try so hard to win;
The banking girl,
The sparkling girl,
And pull the wires in;
The laughing girl,
The chaffing girl,
Can always get a smile;
But—
The money girl,
As pretty girl,
Will beat them by a mile,
The dancing girl,
The stinging girl,
(It sets a killing pace);
The wealthy girl,
Are healthy girls,
And sure will win the race.

News in Kentucky

STEEPFATHER ON TRIAL.

He is Charged With Killing a Three-Year-Old Stepmother.

Wickliffe, Ky., July 4.—Lodge Westmoreland, 22 years old, charged with beating to death his three-year-old stepmother, is undergoing preliminary examination before County Judge Moore, in this city. Nearly all of the 67 witnesses testified.

The case is attracting widespread attention and the town is full of people. Although there was talk of lynching at first the people seem willing to let the law take its course.

The evidence shows that the child's back and collar bone were broken and his dress was covered with blood. It is generally held that there are no impleaders. More arrests may follow.

A DIAMOND MEDAL.

It Will Be Given to Marvin Hart by Louisville Friends.

Louisville, Ky., July 4.—Friends of Marvin Hart celebrated his victory over Jack Root with liquid and Fourth of July fireworks. From one end of Louisville to the other shots and whistles whined, and began a plan for a reception. He is due to reach home July 8. City officials started to raise funds to buy a diamond medal and an emblem of the championship belt to be presented on Hart's arrival at home.

HE MAY DIE.

Boy Fell When People Were Exploding Fireworks.

Louisville, Ky., July 4.—George Lewis, a child, was shot in the head in the yard in the rear of 429 East Walnut street by an unknown individual. Several persons were exploding fireworks in the vicinity at the time. The boy suddenly fell, and when picked up was unconscious. The injury may cause death.

Guardmen's Camp Dates.

Frankfort, Ky., July 4.—The following dates for camp duty at Paducah have been fixed for the three regiments of Adj. Gen. Italy: The Second Regiment will reach camp at Paducah August 7 and leave on the 14th; the first Infantry will arrive on August 17 and leave on the 24th; the Third Infantry will arrive on August 26 and leave on September 2.

To Form An Automobile Club.

Lexington, Ky., July 4.—As a result of the recent movement by several members of the city council to regulate the speed of automobiles in the limits of the city, owners of all motor cars in this city will form an automobile club and they will heartily co-operate with the council in an effort to regulate autos, if the ordinance becomes a law.

Horrible Wife Murder.

Glasgow, Ky., July 4.—Marcus Steenburger, a farmer at Tracey, 10 miles from here, while insane, beat his wife to death with a piece of wood, and made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide by slashing his throat with a razor. He is in custody and will be sent to an asylum.

Witness Fees Held Up.

Lexington, Ky., July 4.—On the allegation of the auditor's office that a portion of the claims of witnesses for the state in the recent trial of James Hargis here are fraudulent, the auditor has refused to pay them. His investigation is being made.

Saved Their Neck.

Bowling Green, Ky., July 4.—Will Hughes and Walter Isbell, both colored, were brought here from Scottsville to save them from a mob that threatened to lynch them. They confessed to having burned a store, causing a loss of $25,000.

Fair Officers are Elected.

Middleburg, Ky., July 4.—At a meeting of directors of the Clay County Fair Association, Lincoln Wells was elected president, to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of J. C. Coulter. W. C. Cundiff was elected vice president.

Death of An Old Old Fellow.

Bowling Green, Ky., July 4.—Andrew Jackson Bagland, 84, and one of the most popular men in the city, died of Bright's disease. He had been ill for quite a while. "Daddy" Bagland had been an Old Fellow since he was 21.

Officer Killed Him.

Central City, Ky., July 4.—Will Kimbley, a negro, 30 years old, was shot and instantly killed by Marshal J. D. Langley. A coroner's jury had been called. The negro was threatening his parents with an ax.

Charitable Woman Dies.

Middleburg, Ky., July 4.—Mrs. Anna Norfleet died at Irvin's store of malignant tumor. She was a charitable woman and had, perhaps, nursed more sick people than any half-dozen people in this locality.

The Cincinnati Team Won.

Frankfort, Ky., July 4.—The All-Collegians, of Cincinnati, defeated the Frankfort baseball club by the score of 6 to 2. Batteries—Sanders and Tipton, for Frankfort; Kinney and Gamble, for All-Collegians.

If you desire to buy first-class building lots apply to T. F. Rogers.

MOB'S WORK.

A Prisoner Taken From Jail and Protected.

Brandenburg, Ky., July 5.—A mob of nearly a hundred men went to the jail and demanded the keys. Once in they were able to find only one of the prisoners charged with criminal assault upon the German girl, Mary Gladier. The other three had crawled up the iron railing and hid in the big water tank near the ceiling.

When the crowd got well inside John Sacra, the man whose trial has been in progress since Monday, dropped to the floor and rushed out of the door. Several pursued him and fired at him, but he made his escape, running towards the public square and would have gotten away had he not met the sheriff and his deputies, who were on their way for Bowling Green, and they ordered him to stop. He rushed on and they shot at him four or five times, wounding him twice. One shot entered behind the ear, coming out of the cheek, and the other went through the leg near the thigh. Neither wound is thought to be fatal.

The shooting near the square frightened the mob in the jail and they hurried off with only one of the men, Jim Lyon, leaving Polk Fletcher and Guy Lyon in the jail. These two together with the wounded man were taken away shortly afterward on the train to Bowling Green. It is supposed that Jim Lyon, who was taken away by the mob, was hanged in the outskirts of the town, and that his body will be found.

FROM A CLEAR SKY.

A Downpour Startled the Residents of Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., July 5.—Lexington was flooded with a deluge of rain that came from a clear sky. This remarkable phenomenon was witnessed by hundreds of persons whose attention was called to it. The rain set in at 11 o'clock and fell in sheets for 15 minutes.

Old residents who were up at the time have stated that they never saw it rain harder. It stopped as suddenly as it began, and the stars were shining brightly as before the rain began. The weather throughout the day had been variable and the thermometer bobbed up and down. The maximum heat registered 81 degrees, the minimum 60 degrees. The barometer remained nearly stationary. There had been no rain during the day, no clouds or lightning during the night.

In colored quarters the ignorant negroes thought the world was coming to an end, and many a prayer was offered. Scientists can not account for the phenomenon.

FREEFORALL FIGHT.

With Clubs the Citizens Went After Falmouth Police.

Falmouth, Ky., July 6.—A street fight took place here between the police and four or five men. The difficulty had its origin at the fair grounds during the progress of a big celebration. The belligerents came to town and renewed hostilities, when the officers attempted to arrest the offenders.

A free for all fight ensued. Knives, sticks and rocks played a conspicuous part. The streets were lined with people and great excitement prevailed. Five men were badly hurt. Special Officer Stevens sustained several ugly gashes in his face and head. Frank Combs had his jugular vein almost severed, and Bob McMillan was also slashed in the neck with a knife. The two latter are in a serious condition, but for prompt medical attention would have bled to death. Six of the participants were landed in jail.

Swanson Acquitted.

Beattyville, Ky., July 5.—The test, made in the case of John Swanson, charged with the murder of Louis May, was concluded, and after a whole day was consumed in arguments. The case was given to the jury, and it returned a verdict of not guilty 15 minutes later.

Injured in a Collision.

Lexington, Ky., July 5.—The Chesapeake & Ohio east-bound passenger train, running at a high rate of speed, crashed into the east-bound Louisville & Nashville passenger train at Wiley Station, and a number of passengers on both trains were injured.

He Lost a Finger.

Bellevue, Ky., July 5.—Elmer Hoffman had a finger of his right hand blown off while celebrating the Fourth. He had been firing dynamite caps in a cave and reached in his pocket for a cap, and for some unknown reason the whole box exploded.

Quiet Fourth in Covington.

Covington, Ky., July 5.—The glorious Fourth was not so strenuous in this city as usual, and the vast majority of citizens showed a marked decrease, compared with the Fourth a year ago. The streets were practically deserted.

Dying Man Immersed.

Steel Wagon Tracks.

The Fiscal Court of Jefferson county, Ky., in which Louisville is situated, has decided to experiment with a new invention consisting of steel tracks for wagon roads. It will have laid a double track of the new rails for half a mile on the Bardstown road just outside the Louisville city limits.

A single track consists of two flat rails, each six and one-half inches wide, and according to the claims of the inventor, it is a great saving to the structure of the road. It is claimed heavy teams can move on these flat rails much more rapidly and easily than on the very best macadam roads. Under present conditions the Fiscal Court finds it difficult to keep up the roads leading into the city, especially where they are subject to heavy travel both winter and summer. The experiment of double tracking the Bardstown road half a mile will cost about $7,000. If the tracks meet the requirements then they will probably be placed on seven or eight of the principal roads coming into the city and extended from the limits out two or three miles.

The Reason.

A Sunday-school teacher after telling his scholars the story of Ananias and Sapphira, asked them, "Why does not God strike everybody dead that tells a lie?" After a long silence one little fellow exclaimed, "Because there wouldn't be nobody left."

Don't Let Baby Cry.

When baby cries, something is probably wrong with its stomach, or other digestive organs, and no time should be lost in giving it a small dose of Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. This is the only safe laxative medicine for Babies and Children, and should always be kept in the house. It contains no injurious ingredients, and can do nothing but good. Try it. Sold by W. S. Lloyd at 50c and $1.00. Money back if it fails.

An Irishman, an Englishman and a Scotchman were conversing, when the British said: "Were I not what I am I would rather be a Scotchman." The Scot said: "Were I not a Scotchman, I would prefer to be an Englishman." The son of the Emerald Isle said: "Were I not an Irishman I would be ashamed of myself."

Out at Norman, Oklahoma, they won't allow a darkey in the town, but drive them out as soon as they land. A lady had hired a woman as servant in her kitchen, but the citizen wouldn't allow her to retain her. They contend negroes do not make desirable citizens and don't intend that they shall get a foothold there.

A little life may be sacrificed to an hour's delay. Cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea comes suddenly. Only safe plan is to have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry on hand.

"Thirty years ago," remarked the oldest inhabitant, "a fellow offered to trade me the site of that buildin' for a jug of whisky I happened to have. That land is worth $15,000 now."

"If you had known it was to become so valuable," said the visitor, "you'd have traded with him, of course?"

"I dunno whether I would or not. That was prime old whisky."

Tired Nervous

When you feel languid, tired, nervous and irritable, your vitality is low—your supply of nerve energy exhausted, and your system running down for lack of power.

The organs of the body are working poorly, or not at all, and you are not getting the nourishment needed. This soon impoverishes the blood and instead of throwing off the impurities, distributes it all through the body. This brings disease and misery.

Feed the nerves with Dr. Miles' Nerve, a nerve food, a nerve medicine, that nourishes and strengthens the nerves, and see how quickly you will get strong and vigorous.

"24. wife suffered with nervousness previous to a recent attack of typhoid fever, but after her recovery, she was much worse, and could not get on her feet. She was very nervous when the last excited. She was very restless at night and never had a good night's rest. She also suffered much from nervous headache. Dr. Miles' Nerve was recommended by a friend. After the first dose she had a good night's rest, and at the end of the first week's treatment she was wonderfully improved. Continued use of Nerve has completed her entire cure."

1211 Cherry St., Evansville, Ind.
Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

Splitting Headache

(Can be often relieved by a nerve sedative, but the scientific way of treating a headache is to go right down to the real cause, or root of the trouble, and cure it with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is the only perfect cure for headache, dizziness, constipation, and is free from the dangerous after-effects, which so frequently follow the use of headache powders. Try it. Sold by W. S. Lloyd at 50c and $1.00. Money back if it fails.

Time To Plant Cowpeas.

A prudent farmer will not fail to sow cowpeas during this month. It is the most favorable month for this purpose. If the stubble land could be broken after the wheat harvest and sown in peas they would greatly enrich the soil and put it in the best possible condition for another crop of wheat.

The peas will ripen sufficiently by fall to be utilized in the fattening of swine, for which purpose they are as valuable as Indian corn. It is remarkable that so long a period elapsed in Southern agriculture before the cowpea was properly appreciated. It is destined to become one of the main supports of the Southern farmer, both for fertilizing purposes and for stock feed. Every year will witness an increased acreage and the old fields that are now seen in many parts of the South will be reclaimed in time by the use of cowpeas.—Southern Farmer.

Nine new directors were elected in New York at the regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. All of those elected are said to be policy holders in the company.

HOW TO AVOID GERM DISEASE.

Strengthen the Stomach and Digestion, and You Will Keep Well.

When there is an epidemic of germ disease, and most diseases are caused by germs, it is the person with a weak stomach who succumbs first.

If you suffer with pains or distress after eating, headache, belching of gases, sour food, a bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, pains in the heart, specks before the eyes, and a general feeling of dependency and weakness, you should get well at once by strengthening the stomach with Mi-na. Just one small tablet out of a fifty cent box before eating, and your digestive system will become so strong that you will be the embodiment of good health and spirits, and need fear no germ diseases.

Ask W. S. Lloyd to show you the guarantee under which he sells Mi-na; it costs nothing unless it cures.

Spent for Cigars and Beer.

A nicker isn't much, to be sure, but a man who smokes three cigars a day, or takes three glasses of beer, in the course of a year consumes enough to add many luxuries and comforts to his home. The Homilistic Review estimates in this way: One barrel of flour, 50 pounds sugar, 20 pounds corn starch, 10 pounds macaroni, 10 quarts beans, 4 twelve pound hams, 1 bushel sweet potatoes, 10 pounds raisins, 10 pounds rice, 20 pounds crackers, 100 bars soap, 3 twelve-pound turkeys, 5 quarts of cranberries, 10 bunches of celery, 10 pounds prunes, 4 dozen oranges, 25 good beefsteaks, 3 bushels Irish potatoes and $10 in money.

And all things seem to boil and hiss,
The icemen leave a chunk of ice
That sizes up alongside this:

NATIONAL HOLIDAY

Body of Secretary Hay Laid in the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce.

IT WAS GUARDED BY SOLDIERS.

The Police Prevented Any Unseemly Din by Fireworks in the Streets Adjuncting the Building.

Mrs. Hay Spent the Day Quietly at the Home of Mr. Mather at Glenville—Many Visitors Called During the Day.

Cleveland, O., July 5.—Guarded still by soldiers around the bier, while the halls of the chamber of commerce were patrolled by police, the body of John Hay lay in state throughout the national holiday. In accordance with the proclamation of Acting Mayor Lapp, the public in general remained from the vicinity of the chamber of commerce and the police made a point of seeing that no unseemly din was created by fireworks in the streets immediately adjoining the building. There were but few visitors at the chamber of commerce during the day. The information had been widely spread that neither the cabinet nor the royal family were to be viewed at the chamber of commerce during the day. He came to consult with the citizens' committee relative to some details of Wednesday's funeral and remained in the hall where the casket lay for a few minutes.

Many Floral Tributes.

Mrs. Hay spent the day quietly at the home of Mr. Mather at Glenville. Many callers called, but to the majority of them she denied herself. The strain of the last few days and the duties of Wednesday rendering rest imperative.

All day long a string of messenger boys delivered floral tributes at the home of Mr. Mather. They came from all parts of the United States and a number were sent by foreign countries.

The flowers will be taken from the home of the deceased, where they will be arranged about the grave while the services are being held in the chapel.

The funeral program is substantially as already announced. The casket arrived at 9 o'clock and was met at the depot by the members of the citizens' committee. Received by Troop A, Ohio national guard, the president and members of his cabinet were driven direct to the chamber of commerce. For about one hour after the departure of the funeral from the chamber of commerce and one hour is allowed for the drive to the cemetery, five miles away.

The Services in the Chapel.

The services in the chapel are to be of the simplest character. A quartet composed of B. W. Willard, H. W. Whitney, F. G. Thompson and Harry A. Cole will first render the favorite hymn of Mr. Hay, Tenneyson's "Crossing the Bar," an extract from the Scriptures will be read by Rev. H. C. Haydon, who will make a short prayer after the choir has sung "For All the Saints Who From Their Labors Rest."

The body will then be removed from the chapel and the funeral will pass up the hill to the family lot, where the interment will be made. The quartet will sing "Still, Still, With Thee," and the services will be concluded by a final prayer and the benediction.

Secretary Hoke, of the Japanese legation, arrived to attend the funeral.

IN MCKINLEY PARK.

An heroic bronze statue of the late President Unveiled in Chicago.

Chicago, July 5.—An heroic bronze statue of William McKinley was unveiled here in McKinley park in the presence of 15,000 people. The principal address of the program was delivered by Judge Peter S. Grosscup, a lifelong friend of President McKinley. Addresses were also made by Gov. Deen, Mayor Dunne and members of the grand army.

Bronze Statue of Gen. T. F. Meagher.

Helena, Mont., July 5.—An heroic equestrian bronze statue of Gen. Thomas Francis Meagher, leader of the Irish brigade in the civil war and later secretary and acting governor of the Territory of Montana, was unveiled in the capital grounds.

Appeal To the President.

Hong Kong, July 5.—The merchants of Canton are preparing a petition to President Roosevelt representing the hardships of the Chinese exclusion treaty. Petitions are posted throughout the city, declaring a boycott of American goods.

Dropped Dead of Heart Disease.

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 5.—Mrs. Jan. Jilich, mother-in-law of Judge J. A. Hiner, of the United States district court, dropped dead at Judge Hiner's home of heart failure just after the explosion of a giant firecracker in front of the house.

To The Public.

In a modest way and without claiming too much, the undersigned takes this method, through the columns of the Advocate to announce to the people of Mt. Sterling and vicinity that he will open in Mt. Sterling, on the first Monday in September, a high grade Military Academy for boys and girls. The course of study extending from primary through academic will be conditioned to prepare students for entrance into the best universities; or, for those who do not aspire to college education, to supply an excellent preparation for selfculture. The faculty to begin with will consist of three teachers, all experienced and abreast of modern pedagogy. This force will doubtless be sufficient the first year. The number of school officers, however, will be increased as the patronage increases.

We trust that the good people of Mt. Sterling will receive our school as if there never had been a failure preceding us, that is in good faith and hearty co-operation. We purpose to establish a permanent institution, and we shall strive to achieve a measure of success worthy of the confidence and support of an intelligent and cultured community. Owing to circumstances, we shall not be able to reach Mt. Sterling until July 25. After that date we shall be on the ground to personally superintend the canvass for students. Our catalogue will be ready August 1 or sooner. Assistance from any source thankfully received.

W. P. Maury, Menfreeboro, Tenn., July 3.

The best Company is the one that does the most for its policyholders. That's the Northwestern Mutual Life. See Stanley Arnold about it.

About 3 o'clock Wednesday morning the fire company was hastened to Evans & Talbott's livery stable at foot of Bank street, which was on fire in the roof. It was extinguished with slight damage. Cause is a matter of supposition; that a burning fragment from fireworks lit on the roof. The stable is the property of Judge H. Clay McKee.

COUNTY COURT ITEMS.

SUMMER COON.

LEXINGTON, KY., July 3, 1905.

Mr. Editor of the Advocate: As it has bin sum time since I have had anything to say in yore famus sheet it might be of sum pleasure to my friends to here from the Summer Coon once a year if no oftner. I was so sorry to hear of Dr. Drake's death. I will have to say as far as I know Mt. Sterling has lost one of its most noble Christian gentlemen, a man that I admired in every respect, and if there be a better place than this world, which we have no right to dispute, I am satisfied he is one of the number in the good Lord's flock. I think he did his duty as a Christian man in every calling since I knew him, which was twenty years or more. If he had any enemies I was not one of them. Wel, I hope all the people in Mt. Sterling is prospering and doing wel, whether the coar a snap or not for old Summer. I have no wealth but a big hart. I hate no body, therefore I claim no enemies. I have seen persons that I thought did not like me so all fired wel, tho I lik them but would not bother them any more then we necessary. My idler is when a person doet appreciate my company is not to form a hatred against them but just give them all surplus teratory you can spare and time will bring all differences right in sweet by and by. Wel, it look like the good people of Mt. Sterling is dropping out one by one in the last year or so faster then usual, but all is for the best, so says the good book, so we had better travel on the cleanest roads we can find while journeying thru this world. Here in Lexington I dont think the tote fair with one another. All groceries and places where the people nas to go to get something to supply there tables is forced to keep closed on the Sabth. I ran all over the city last Sunday trying to get in sum place to get a nickels worth of loney sausage. I was as hongra as a wolf. I had not bin up against what you might call a squar stumick deal for three days and nights. All the chickens and pigs begin lying and running when I got in sight of them. It looked like the new I had stumick troubles but my lord if it had bin bug juice I wanted I could of got all I wanted if I wer wel heeled. I suppose you hav heard about the strick saloon closing Sunday law. The real meaning of the Sabth closing law is you cant get nothing without the knee used on Sunday. I will admit a blind man cant see any saloons open in Lexington on Sundays. Yes, you city officals are darent to tassel us liquor men and gamblers. We are the power behind the guns and well all you little soft-shell polititions no it. If any body does the calamity water people in being the whole thing in Kentucky politticks just bring out a set of canastats that would insure the tam-rack Sunday laws sure a nough and see will wipe the face of the earth with them. Wel, I will close as avery body as well as myself nose money and liquor runs Americs in law making. Its hard to tel how and what bases the other world is run on, tho I am inclind to think the dollars and bug juice wont be in to over there. That is one reason I think makes the people want to load up on those two items so heavy while here.

MASTIC MIXED PAINT
Can't be Touched for painting houses. The reason's plain. Mastic is the purest, therefore the most durable and economical. There is a whole string of "other fellows" claiming "just as good as Mastic" but they don't prove it. Maybe they can't. The analysis of Mastic is published. It's made of pure lead, zinc and linseed oil—the most durable kind of paint—and its purity is therefore unquestioned. As purity means durability, the splendid wearing qualities of Mastic have given it the title of "The Kind That Lasts," and this title is backed up by our absolute guarantee. Mastic is made by

EMBRY & COMPANY,
 LEXINGTON, KY.
Between-Seasons Sale Opens Wednesday, July 5.
 One of the events of interest to milady for the present week is the opening of Embry & Co's. Between-Seasons Sale of Ladies' Hats and Tailored Garments.
 This enterprising young firm has established the invariable rule never to carry from one season stock designed for a previous season, and as a means to this end is putting on sale all its offerings of Pattern and Trimmed Hats and Novelties, Linen Suits and Coats, Shirt Waist Suits and Waists, Silk Traveling Coats, Silk Shirt Waist Suits, and Silk Coat Suits, Walking Skirts and Fancy Dresses, Hand Embroidered Linen and Jap Silk Waists, Separate Linen Coats and the numerous accessories to women's wardrobes.
 This sale, coming thus early, will give the public the benefit of their offerings at reduced prices at a time when they may be of service to those contemplating summer trips, outings and tours.
 They have established the enviable reputation of giving absolutely the goods they advertise at the prices they announce, and it is this fact, combined with the recognized excellence of quality and exclusiveness of design of everything handled by this house, that has made Embry & Co's. periodical mid-summer sales so abundantly popular.
 The sale opens Wednesday morning, July 5, and will continue until the elaborate stock is sold. This step is being taken at this time in order to make ready for the reception of the fall offerings, some of which are now in process of design.

DEATHS
DRAKE—On last Thursday morning at 10 o'clock the life of one of the most useful and highly respected, distinguished and loved citizens went to rest. The death of Dr. R. Q. Drake is cause for universal mourning. For years he has stood at the head of the medical profession here and he has through his profession given relief to more of the suffering than any man who had succeeded him or who has been a practitioner with him during the same period of years. Not only was he admired for his knowledge and skill but for the charitable character he possessed. Of him a practitioner said: "I have seen him under all circumstances and conditions and never could I observe any difference shown between the patron who paid and the one who couldn't. In fact said he I do not believe the money feature in any way controlled him in his practice." Another said: "I believe Dr. Drake does more free practice for the poor than all the physicians here." Such a man with such a record holds the hearts of the people. It was the late evangelist, Ben Bigstaff, who said: "I know I need treatment but have not the needed money with which to get it." So soon as Dr. Drake heard of it his best services were offered free of charge. We mention these few instances that the people may really know the kind of man that has gone out from us. As he was in his profession so was he in his church. Every Saturday he wrote his check for a handsome amount with which to meet the church's needs. He could be counted on for sincerity and with courage sufficient to carry into effect whatever had led to an unerring conclusion. He was a member of the Mt. Sterling Baptist Church. He believed in her doctrines and in love and power presented them to others. In the prayer-meetings, the Sunday-school, the regular worship, he gave his presence and influence, and to education, the missions, the orphanage, the Gospel, he gave of his means liberally and his home was always open to the entertainment of God's servants. Whether in society, the church, politics, he was controlled by a principle and wherever he was called he ever made manifest justice, liberality and the presence of a christian character. In addition to his arduous professional work his people with the utmost confidence in his ability and courage had demanded that he serve as City Councilman which he did with distinction, and up to the time of his death he was a member of the school board of the Mt. Sterling High School. The death of Dr. Drake brought universal mourning and many tears, because of his real worth. The funeral service was conducted at the Baptist Church of which he was senior deacon, by Dr. J. J. Taylor, of Georgetown College, and his remains were taken to Lexington to rest with his departed dead. The sermon was in keeping with the great and modest man, and the flowers though rare and profuse were meager expressions of love. It required a special coach to take the funeral party to Lexington. They were met by sympathetic friends anxious to do honor to him they loved. Dr. Drake will never be seen on earth again but his deeds will live on and on those last words, "Tell my brethren to be diligent" will live on and Dr. Drake through them to generations yet to come. May the Lord raise up others like unto him. His life a book of golden deeds, his reward a rich inheritance in the kingdom of God. Dr. Drake was born March, 1846, in Lexington. Came here in 1861. Began the practice of medicine 1867. Was twice married. His first wife was Miss Laura D. Martin who preceded him to Heaven in 1877. They had two children who died in infancy. His second marriage was to Miss Sallie Harris Brown, October 11, 1883, who with four children, Ann Laura, Ben, Mrs. J. R. Hobbs and Roger survive him.

MOORE—Mrs. W. H. Moore died at her home in this city Thursday, June 29, 1905, of a complication of diseases, aged 50 years. Mrs. Moore's maiden name was Webster, sister of David Webster, of this county. She was twice married—first to George Alexander, who died in 1894. Four children survive them. Her second marriage was to W. H. Moore, who survives her. Mrs. Moore was a member of the Christian Church. The funeral was at the Christian Church Saturday, July 1, by Rev. H. D. Clark, and burial in Macphail Cemetery.
DAVIS—John Davis, aged about 68 years, died at his home near this city, Monday evening, July 3, 1905, of Bright's disease. The funeral was at the residence Wednesday morning by Rev. H. G. Turner, of the Methodist Church, of which he was a member, and the burial was in the family burying ground on Winchester pike. Mr. Davis was one of Montgomery county's best citizens. He moved to this city last spring.
KINCAID—Mrs. Geo. Kincaid, aged about 60 years, died of paralysis at her home in the Grassy Lick neighborhood on Saturday, July 1, 1905. She leaves a husband and five children to mourn her loss. The burial was in the Casady graveyard in Bath county on Monday.
KENDALL—Mrs. W. H. Kendall, daughter of the late Dr. McDowell, of Flemingsburg, sister-in-law of Mrs. Mary Kendall, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Silas Stoffer and Mrs. B. F. Thomson, died suddenly at her home in Flemingsburg Wednesday.

 51-3t. Executrix.
Will Probated.
 Dr. R. Q. Drake makes his wife Executrix without bond and disposes of his property as follows:
 Personal and real estate goes to his wife and children.
 He gives to the Howards Mill Baptist church $1,000, to Dr. W. R. Thompson, $500, one of his X-ray machines, other medical instruments, appliances and books.
 To Dr. Ben Bosworth, Knoxville, Tenn., another X-ray machine.
 He gave to Mrs. Simrall, J. B. Spratt and S. E. Spratt surgical instruments.
 Dairy cows on the farm he gave to his son, Ben P.; and to his youngest son, Roger, and son-in-law, Rev. J. R. Hobbs, his library. Numerous small bequests he made to his friends and relatives.
Serious Cutting.
 John Hamilton and B. Fray, son of Dave Fray were in town Monday drinking, and going to their homes near Levee B. Fray claims he was run over while down on the pike by Hamilton and painfully hurt and that if Hamilton was cut he knew nothing about it.
 Hamilton's story is this, he had taken about five glasses of beer and so whiskey, was not drunk. Saw Fray on the pike did not run over him but for some cause Fray was mad and while attempting to cut his throat cut his arm and also made deep cuts in the back and kicked and beat him. He says the two Frays did it and that in the crowd there were other assisting them. Hamilton is in a serious condition and may die.
